OUR READERS HAVE THEIR SAY.

I'm blown away by Alison Pringle's 400-square-foot studio ("Small Spaces," September 2014). Her meticulous attention to detail and mix of beautiful antiques and modern touches has made this tiny home a brilliant example of how to live small but stunningly. What a lovely statement in this oversized world.

I love House & Home and cherish every issue. However, many of us are tired of reading about "small" spaces that are roomier than our own homes. I'd love to see a home that's more consistent with my own. Please help us help ourselves with more realistic spaces!

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT OUR SPECIAL ISSUES:

I just wanted to say that I love, love, love Decorating With White! If you decide to launch a monthly all-white magazine, sign me up! (On another note, I would love to see more Canadian content.)

— HEATHER ROWAN

Never before have I read every article in a magazine. Great advice in the Ask A Designer special issue! It's got me motivated to change things around for a new look, even if I can't afford new stuff.
